

The Academy of Population Health Pharmacy (aPHP) - Terms and Conditions

Effective Date: February 4, 2025

Last Updated: September 13, 2024

1. Introduction

Welcome to The Academy of Population Health Pharmacy (aPHP), the DBA name of Ahsekal Consulting, LLC. By accessing and using our website (www.goaphp.net), services, or training materials, you agree to comply with and be bound by these Terms and Conditions (“Terms”). These Terms govern your access to aPHP’s courses, training materials, digital content, and services.

Your use of this website indicates acceptance of these Terms. If you disagree, refrain from using our services. aPHP reserves the right to modify these Terms at any time. Updates will be posted on our website, and continued use constitutes acceptance of the revised Terms.

2. Use of Services & License Agreement

Eligibility

To access aPHP’s services, you must:

- Be a registered pharmacist.
- Provide accurate information when enrolling in courses.
- Use the platform for educational and professional development only.

License Grant

aPHP grants users a revocable, non-exclusive, non-transferable license to access its training materials, software, and digital resources for educational purposes only.

Restrictions & Unauthorized Use

Users are denied permission to:

- Share, modify, resell, or distribute aPHP materials without explicit authorization.
- Allow public or third-party access to training materials via open-source platforms or shared content websites.
- Use training materials for commercial resale outside of authorized instruction.
- Make materials available online without restricting access via username/password.

Instructor-Led Use

- Permitted: Licensed materials may be used for instructor-led training, webinars, and virtual instruction where the licensor (aPHP) is the instructor.
- Restricted: Users are denied permission to extract, modify, or redistribute content as standalone training outside of aPHP's framework.

Violations of any of these terms will immediately revoke the user's license.

3. Intellectual Property & Proprietary Rights

All course materials, articles, videos, and resources are the intellectual property of aPHP and are protected under U.S. copyright laws.

Permitted Use: Registered users may access materials for personal learning only.

Restricted Use:

Users are unable to:

- Modify, resell, or publicly distribute any aPHP content.
- Claim ownership of training materials or create derivative works for resale.
- Alter or remove copyright notices from any aPHP materials.

Legal Consequences: Unauthorized use of aPHP intellectual property may result in legal action.

4. Payments, Refunds & Subscription Plans

Payments

- All payments must be made via approved methods listed on www.goaphp.net.
- Fees for courses and training are non-refundable, unless explicitly stated otherwise.
- Users with outstanding balances may have restricted access.

Subscription & Cancellation

- Subscription-based services renew automatically unless canceled before renewal.
- Users may cancel subscriptions through their aPHP account settings.

For billing inquiries, contact contact@goaphp.net.

5. Limitation of Liability & Disclaimers

Informational Use Only

aPHP's materials are for educational purposes and refuse to constitute medical, legal, or financial advice.

Liability Limitations

To the fullest extent permitted by law, aPHP is unable to:

- Accept liability for direct, indirect, or consequential damages arising from use of services.
- Accept liability for direct, indirect, or consequential damages arising from visiting its site.
- Guarantee career outcomes, certification approvals, or regulatory acceptance.
- Ensure third-party content or external links accessed via aPHP are accurate or safe.

Users assume full responsibility for applying training content.

6. Privacy Policy & Data Protection

aPHP complies with U.S. privacy laws, HIPAA, and GDPR (for international users) regarding data collection, storage, and security.

- Collected Data: Name, email, payment details, course progress.
- Data Use: Educational services, account management, analytics.
- User Rights: Users may request data access, modification, or deletion by emailing contact@goaphp.net.
- aPHP declines to sell or share personal data with third parties for marketing purposes.

For details, refer to our Privacy Policy available on our website at www.goaphp.net or contact us at contact@goaphp.net for further inquiries.

7. Third-Party Services & External Links

aPHP is unable to assume responsibility for third-party platforms (e.g., payment processors, learning management systems). Users should review third-party terms before use.

8. Governing Law & Dispute Resolution

These Terms are governed by the laws of California.

Dispute Resolution Process

1. Disputes must first be resolved through direct negotiation.
2. If unresolved, disputes may proceed to binding arbitration in California.
3. Class-action lawsuits are prohibited under these Terms.

9. Termination of Services

aPHP reserves the right to suspend or terminate accounts if users:

- Violate these Terms.
- Engage in misconduct harming aPHP or its members.
- Provide false information during enrollment.

Users whose accounts are terminated for violations are unable to receive refunds.
